

Nasúla Wóslolye - Wamníomni thánka

Hi! I'm Brain the Robot! – Háu! Mas'wíchaša hemácha na Nasúla emáčiyape ló.
And I have some quick facts about tornadoes. – Na takú wamníomni thánka ečhíyatanhan očíčiyakapi wačhíj yeló.

A tornado is rapidly spinning tube of wind that touches the ground and the clouds in the sky. – Wamníomni thánka kiňhán maňpíya-tanhan khútakiya makhá iyágleya hihújni na šna líglila kahómnimniyan hé.

They can move across land. – Na makhá kiň théhanl ópta yá okíhi.

A tornado that occurs over water is called a waterspout. – Waňží mní ópta yé hanťanš, “mní-wamníomni thánka” eyápe ló.

Weather radars are used to detect and track tornadoes. – Thaté ayáta wícháša na wíňyan kiň iwákhita hécha úňpi, na héchel wamníomni thánka kiň ablézapi na šna othápħapi.

If there is danger of a tornado near you, you should go to a basement or other underground shelter. – Wamníomni thánka waňží nikhíyela ú séhingle kiňhán, ináħni thihúkhtakiya iyáyapi na yukšála naič'íziň yanká po.

That's fascinating! – Hé kiksúye-phičá yeló!

My brain is spinning! – Nasúla kiň waná namáhomni!

Keep an eye out for tornadoes and more Brain Facts with me, Brain the Robot! – Hó čha wamníomni thánka akhíta po. Na ečháš kúpi nahán akhé Nasúla Wóslolye eyápi waňží yunáyečhičhíyapi kte! Nasúla miyé yeló.